

LOCAL GOVERNMENT ENGINEERS' ASSOCIATION

A centenary history

PAULINE CURBY

- This illustrated history traces the fortunes of the Local Government Engineers' Association of NSW
- The first complete history of the LGEA, the largest and oldest collective voice of local government engineers in NSW
- Pauline Curby is an award-winning author
- Illustrated throughout, with historical images from local history organisations and NSW State Archives showing the progress in engineering and the modernisation of NSW

Few can claim to affect the lives of every person in every community, but that is the legacy of local government engineers. Many saw service in both world wars and later used the diverse skills acquired in war in their peacetime council work. Always fascinated by new technology, local government engineers have devised improved methods of road and bridge construction, and taken on vital tasks such as providing reticulated water to rural communities. As well as facing the challenge of 'droughts and flooding rains', they have designed swimming pools and airports and been involved in town planning.

This book celebrates the first 100 years of the Local Government Engineers' Association of NSW, a steadfast advocate for both its members and the broader community.

ANIMAL NUTRITION

From Theory to Practice

PHILIP I. HYND

- Provides in-depth knowledge of the digestive anatomy, physiology, nutrition and practical feeding of a wide range of animal species (sheep, beef cattle, dairy cattle, goats, deer, camelids, dogs, cats, horses, pigs, poultry)
- Chapters contain key messages and breakout boxes to highlight essential information
- Presents complex concepts simply using clear illustrations and flowcharts
- Clear diagrams, tables and breakout boxes make this text readily understandable and it will be of value to tertiary students and to practising veterinarians, livestock consultants, producers and nutritionists
- Includes 111 illustrations

Nutrition is the key driver of animal health, welfare and production. In agriculture, nutrition is crucial to meet increasing global demands for animal protein and consumer demands for cheaper meat, milk and eggs and higher standards of animal welfare. For companion animals, good nutrition is essential for quality and length of life.

Animal Nutrition examines the science behind the nutrition and feeding of the major domesticated animal species: sheep, beef cattle, dairy cattle, deer, goats, pigs, poultry, camelids, horses, dogs and cats. It includes introductory chapters on digestion and feeding standards, followed by chapters on each animal, containing information on digestive anatomy and physiology, evidence-based nutrition and feeding requirements, and common nutritional and metabolic diseases.

- The Action Plan for Australian Lizards and Snakes 2017* represents an essential resource for research scientists, conservation biologists, conservation managers, environmental consultants, policy makers from Commonwealth and State/Territory governments, and the herpetological community
- Lizards and snakes (squamate reptiles) are the most diverse vertebrate group in Australia, but their conservation has been hindered by a lack of knowledge of their diversity, distribution, biology and key threats
- Includes 990 maps

The Action Plan for Australian Lizards and Snakes 2017 provides the first comprehensive assessment of the conservation status of Australian squamates in 25 years. Conservation assessments are provided for 986 species of Australian lizards and snakes (including sea snakes). Over the past 25 years there has been a substantial increase in the number of species and families recognised within Australia. There has also been an increase in the range and magnitude of threatening processes with the potential to impact squamates.

This has resulted in an increase in the proportion of the Australian squamate fauna that is considered Threatened. Notably over this period, the first known extinction (post-European settlement) of an Australian reptile species occurred – an indication of the increasingly urgent need for better knowledge and management of this fauna.

Six key recommendations are presented to improve the conservation management and plight of Australian squamates.

CANADA AND IMPRESSIONISM

New Horizons

KATERINA ATANASSOVA

Canada and Impressionism: New Horizons highlights Canadian art's contribution to the global phenomenon of Impressionism. In landscapes of snow and ice as well as in everyday scenes at the beach or working the land, the artists captured the unique light conditions of their homeland. This volume is the first of its kind to add an entirely new chapter to the history of world Impressionism.

THE ARTFULNESS OF DEATH IN AFRICA

JOHN MACK

Drawing on a wide range of historical, anthropological, archeological, art historical and literary sources, John Mack charts the full range of African funereal art, drawing on examples from across the continent, and from ancient times to today.

If weddings are the most lavish events in most parts of the world, in Sub-Saharan Africa, by contrast, it is funerals. Artworks of many kinds are created to commemorate the dead, from mortuary sculptures and extravagant coffins, to elaborate headstones, memorials, monuments and cenotaphs.

FLUEVOG

50 Years of Unique Soles for Unique Souls

JOHN FLUEVOG

Fluevog is an homage to wild and whimsical John Fluevog shoes and their free-spirited fans, written by the cult shoe designer and featuring lush photography, graphics, and hand-drawn illustrations.

Colourful and quirky, Fluevog shoes have graced the feet of celebrities such as Madonna, Jack White, and Lady Gaga, as well as legions of lifelong fans who consider themselves more a community than mere customers.

These values flow directly from the heart of John Fluevog himself, who says that his mission in business and in life is to help people 'walk in spirit.'

6X20

From Below to Above

MAX LEITNER

6x20: From Below to Above takes viewers on a dizzying vertical journey, an urban exploration from deep underground to high above the skyline with adventure photographer Max Leitner.

Max Leitner what could be described as a 'vertical explorer,' from shooting in abandoned underground mines to capturing the highest peaks of Europe from a helicopter. 6x20: From Below to Above compiles his travel images into six chapters of 20 images each, organised by altitude: from the underground to street level, to buildings, to rooftops, to drones and helicopters. While he shoots for brands such as Nikon, BMW, Husqvarna and Huawei, Max often approaches his personal work as a fine artist, shooting with DSLR and medium format cameras.

SCIENCE MEETS LITERATURE

What Elias Canetti's Auto-da-Fe Tells Us about the Human Mind and Human Behavior

DARIO MAESTRIPIERI

Elias Canetti's 1935 novel Auto-da-Fe (original German title, Die Blendung) has traditionally been difficult to interpret and the author's intentions in writing it have remained unclear.

Science Meets Literature argues that 'Auto-da-Fe' is a novel about human nature that illustrates the workings of the human mind and some universal aspects of human behavior and human social relationships.

TRANSFORMING GLASGOW

Beyond the Post-Industrial City

EDITED BY KEITH KINTREA,
REBECCA MADGIN

This interdisciplinary study examines the ongoing transformation of Glasgow as it has transitioned from a de-industrial to a post-industrial city during the 21st Century. Looking at diverse issues of urban policy, regeneration, and economic and social change, it considers the evolving lived experiences of Glaswegians.

Contributors explore the necessary actions required to secure the gains of regeneration and create an economically competitive, socially just and sustainable city, establishing a theory that moves beyond post-industrialism that serves as a model for similar cities globally.

VIVIEN LIU

Being There

VIVIEN LIU

As a photographer, Vivien Liu quickly developed a strong sensibility portraying space as seen through the first person, which now defines her style. What began as a weekend pastime has transformed Vivien into one of the most prolific urban photographers in Hong Kong, attracting over 240,000 followers on Instagram.

Her first book, Being There explores the dialogue and tension between people and spaces through portraiture, landscapes, and street photography, from the urban density of Hong Kong and Tokyo to epic natural landscapes like Zhangjiajie, China. With an architect's artful eye, Ms. Liu captures this juxtaposition in the most beautiful way, sharply highlighting her eye for patterns and symmetry across settings.

ISIS AND THE PORNOGRAPHY OF VIOLENCE

SIMON COTTEE

is a collection of iconoclastic essays on ISIS, spanning the four-year period from its ascendancy in late 2014 to its demise in early 2018. From a trenchant critique of the infantilization of jihadists to a probing examination of the parallels between gonzo porn and ISIS beheading videos, the pieces collected in this volume challenge conventional ways of thinking about ISIS and the roots of its appeal.

Simon Cottee's core argument is that Western ISIS recruits, far from being brainwashed or "vulnerable" dupes, actively responded to the group's promise of redemptive violence and self-sacrifice to a total cause.

CARLO TAPIA, EDITED
BY TOMMASO ASTARITA,
GAETANO SABATINI

A Treatise on Abundance (1638) and Early Modern Views of Poverty and Famine is an edited English translation of Carlo Tapia's 'Trattato dell'abondanza'. First published in Naples in 1638, the treatise offered the earliest systematic attempt to develop and publicize the most effective tools available to governments to fight famine and poverty. In particular, Tapia moved the discussion of these issues away from traditional religious approaches and aimed instead to offer a theoretical understanding of the issues and practical advice that could help administrators in the provinces and in the capital.

ACCOUNTABILITY AND REVIEW IN THE COUNTER-TERRORIST STATE

JESSIE BLACKBOURN, FIONA DE LONDRAS, LYDIA MORGAN

Counter-terrorism is now a permanent and sprawling part of the legislative and operational apparatus of the state. In spite of this, little is known about the law and practice of how it is reviewed, how effective review mechanisms are, what impact they have, or how they interact with one another.

This book addresses that gap in knowledge by presenting the first comprehensive, critical analysis of counter-terrorism review in the United Kingdom, informed by interviews with policy makers, politicians, practitioners and civil society.

EDITED BY STIJN OOSTERLYNCK, ANDREAS NOVY, YURI KAZEPOV

The diverse team of contributors reflect on the trajectory of social innovation in European governance. They illustrate how different governance dynamics and welfare mixes enable or hinder poverty reduction strategies and analyse how they involve a diversity of actors, instruments and resources at different spatial scales.

The contributions are based on research motivated by the standstill in the fight against poverty in Europe and the anxiety that conventional macro-social policies are insufficient to deal with the current challenges.

Through accounts of his experience as a local politician and elected once holder, Stephen Condit examines, in Anarchism in Local Governance, how his anarchist convictions may have contributed to the administration of his community in a way that empowers citizens towards self-governance and prefiguration of communal anarchist ideals.

The hypothesis is that municipal governance and anarchist thought and praxis can both benefit by this kind of encounter. Condit also investigates the emergence of anarchism through citizen participation in civil society as a reality to which the municipality is accountable.
